I don't want to feel this way and I don't want
To pretend that these feelings don't exist
But I'm aware yet so afraid
That I'll make mistakes I'll always regretAnd by the way, would it be okay
If we went our separate ways, just to seeI don't want to hide the truth but I can see you
Through jaded eyes my faded broken gaze
It strays away and I'm afraid
That I'll make mistakes I'll always regretAnd by the way, would it be okay
If we went our separate ways 'cause I can't breatheSometimes I think that these chains can be brokenAnd I can see in your eyes, you're lying
Through your teeth and I'm aware, this isn't fairAnd by the way, would it be okay
If we went our separate ways to seeIf in time the shades are drawn back again
The light reflects upon what might have been
And I will be here 'cause I don't mind waitingAnd I will be here 'cause I don't mind waiting
And I will be here 'cause I don't mind waiting
I don't mind waiting, waiting, waiting, waiting
Waiting, waiting, waiting
