Why Does Love Have to Change

Night Ranger

The old words
Don't mean the same anymore
Time makes the change
As the faces begin to ageThrough the eyes
Things look different than before
Spark and the flame, it'll never be the same
Never be the sameWhy does love have to change
Why does love have to change
Why does love have to changeThe old place
Don't seem the same anymore
Yesterday's dreams
Lie discarded on the bedroom floorIn the heart
Will the pain go away, time heals the wounds
But the scars seem to always stay
To haunt you another dayWhy does love have to change
Why does love have to change
Why does love have to changeWhy does love have to change
Why does love have to change
Why does love have to changeIt's a hard way to go
Should'a left when my feelings showed
You had a hold on my soulOh, no more
It's the end of your reign
I still think it's strange
Why love have to changeWhy does love have to change
Why does love have to change
Why does love have to change
Yeah, oh, yeahWhy does love have to change
Why does love have to change
Why does love have to change
