Addiction Pole

Pyogenesis

You're my dearest, definitely you are the one
Of those darker individuals
How could I know?
How could I see the things the way you do?
How could I feel that your heart is crying?I try to turn whenever I see her
I know my eyes will burn
A split from my addiction pole, todayI'm all tied up, my eyes are already shut
It's all too strong, too tough to cut
Our love seeds here, planted to grow
Take my breath and I will goI try to turn whenever I see her
I know my eyes will burn
A split from my addiction pole, todayOh damned beast, can you hear the church bell ring?
The eternal moon comes soon, much too soonI try to turn whenever I see her
I know my eyes will burn
A split from my addiction poleI try to turn whenever I see her
I know my eyes will burn
A split from my addiction pole, today
Addiction pole, today, addiction pole, today
