Chasing Down the Sun

New Heights

Lost myself, in a storm
I've been running from a broken heart
I can't find my way home (my way home)Chasing down the sun
I'm getting tired of getting nowhere
Time to give it up
I need to breathe
To seeYou appear and I've got a reason
To kill the feeling I've been believing
So don't run away, don't run away
TonightLost it all, in the end
With the future lying in our hands
How could I let you go, againChasing down the sun
I'm getting tired of getting nowhere
Time to give it up
I need to breathe
To seeYou appear and I've got a reason
To kill the feeling I've been believing
So don't run away, don't run away
TonightMorning comes, the darkness is running
I can see the light of what we're becoming
So don't run away, don't run away
This timeI feel like I'm going crazy
But I know that I'm coming alive
From the one I know can save me
Now is the timeWhoa
WhoaChasing down the sun
I'm getting tiredYou appear and I've got a reason
To kill the feeling I've been believing
So don't run away, don't run away
TonightMorning comes, the darkness is running
I can see the light of what we're becoming
So don't run away, don't run away
This timeOoh

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/