Stun the Evolution

Morning Again

Frown on you and all your ambitions.
Blind me to what the future holds for you.
You've been told time and time again.
They've passed their sentence on you.
Discourage you.
An identity drowns inside you.
Stun the evolution of what could have been.
A child only knows what they are shown.
They follow you.
Created in a world of confusion.
An identity becomes obsolete.
Helpless.
Left to follow a messenger gone astray.
Led astray.
One that becomes you.
That one is you.
A being created.
A mind has been tainted.
