Never Know Love

Johnny Gill

I would give my life for you
Only because I feel the need
Girl I would die for you
Precious as gold, you are to meAnd I bet you
That you'll never, ever had feel love to call your own
I will let you through the pleasure
Don't put your love on hold, oh, be aroundYou will never know love if you don't open your heart
Come as you are
You will never know love until you open your heart
Making the startI'd sacrifice for you
Simply because you're heaven to me
Lay down my life for you
'Cause you are my will, my everythingAnd I bet you
That you'll never, ever had real love to call your own
I will let you feel the pleasure
Don't put your love on hold, oh, be aroundYou will never know love if you don't open your heart
Come as you are
You will never know love until you open your heart
Making the startYou will never know love if you don't open your heart
Come as you are
You will never know love until you open your heart
Making the startDon't put your love on hold, oh, be aroundYou will never, never, never, never, never, never
You will never
Oh babeYou will never know love if you don't open your heart
Come as you are
You will never know love until you open your heart
Making the startYou will never know love if you don't open your heart
Come as you are
You will never know love until you open your heart
Making the startYou will never know love if you don't open your heart
Come as you are
You will never know love until you open your heart
Making the startYou will never know love if you don't open your heart
Come as you are
You will never know love
