

Clear Hearts Grey Flowers

Jack Off Jill

Your mouth is like funeral where words go to die

where kisses go to die

I'm not the girl that stopped and stared

I'm not the girl that lied

this is what you want this is what you get

this is what you want this is what you get

this is what you want this is what you get

this is what you got

this is what you want this is what you get

this is what you want this is what you get

this is what you get from me

Your mouth is like an open sore where words blister and die

where kisses rot and die

I'm not the girl that stopped and stared

this is what you want this is what you get

this is what you want this is what you get

this is what you got

this is what you want this is what you get

this is what you want this is what you get

this is what you get from me

clear hearts and grey...

this is what you want this is what you get

this is what you want this is what you get

this is what you want this is what you want this is what you wanted

this is what you want this is what you get
this is what you want this is what you get
this is what you want this is what you get
this is what you want this is what you get fuck you

this is what you want this is what you get
this is what you want this is what you get
this is what you want this is what you want this is what you wanted

this is what you want this is what you get
this is what you want this is what you get this is what you want from me
