New Day

Melee

Morning sunshine
Come, light my life, like you said you can
With the windows open, all the spirits fly away
Pull the wings off a bird who cannot flyAnd I'll make you feel the pain of where she lies
'Cause this is a new day for broken hands and breaking backs
This is a new day for lovers' hands and fighting hands
To finally be set free from tragedyMorning sunshine
Come, light my life like you said you can
And I'll give you all the time that we need now
To figure out where we can go just to be aloneAnd I'll watch you wash your body clean
Of all the things you wish you'd never seen
I cast these stones upon my broken hands
I cast these stones upon my back
