Mary Lou

Reckless Sleepers

She blew into town with the summer corn
Sweet and golden, freshly from the farm
I'm telling you, the way my buddies warned
Don't go thinking you'll protect her from harm

Figure out what you're gonna do
And what you should have done
'cause your foot may land into a different shoe
Don't fall in love with Mary Lou

Learn from our mistakes
You both dream, but only one awakes

So maybe she awoke and I never did
I don't wanna go into detail now
'cause it's the end result that we all admit
The difference is only in the whys and hows

Figure out what you're gonna do
And what you should have done
We're all taking champagne for our blues
'cause we're in love with Mary Lou

Learn from our mistakes
You both dream but only one awakes

Figure out what you're gonna do
And what you should have done
And we'll be down here and we'll all drink to you
Saying "he's in love with Mary Lou"
Enjoy it for a while Penetrate her fortune teller smile

Ah, but there's always that moment of truth
When you're in love with Mary Lou

Oh, when you start thinking that we've got it all wrong
And it's different for you
You're in love with Mary Lou

Mary Lou!

You're just another one of the chosen few
When you're in love with Mary Lou, too

You both, you both, you both dream...

Lyrics Submitted by Richard Gagnon

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/