Control

China Drum

Don't try and make yourself hate him he tried that one with you he ended up just hating himself and more in love with you You'll have to learn from all his mistakes the brain can lie but your heart will never fake He's been rushing around grabbing all he can find as quickly as he could
'cause he knew you would when he saw that distant look,
he had to say goodbye
'cause he knew you could People say that he's a bastard, that's an unfair use of words when i don't know what was going on, no, i never really heard why don't you wake up to what he's got do you have the time to find out if he's lost control?
There's no point in hanging around if happiness can't be found, you'd better go he never stopped to ask you why he never had to try, well he was wrong Why don't you wake up to what you want and listen to his lines 'cause what you two have been going through has happened many times I've never seen you taking any prisoners, but i've seen you weep yeah, i've seen you apologising, but thats not gonna work with me.
I've heard you're telling everybody what you've done to him but that doesn't add up to a sorry and it's not gonna work with me He's been rushing around
grabbing all he can find

when he saw that distant look,
he had to say goodbye
'cause he knew you could
and stop filling him with lies
'cause what you two have been going through
has happened many times it's happened too many times
