One For The Money (Re-Recorded / Remastered)

T.G. Sheppard

He said, "I'm sorry I have to cancel the plans we made
I got a weekend business trip bound to LA"
She drives him to the airportAnd watches till he boards the plane
Then she hurries to a phone booth
And across town the telephone ringsShe's got one for the money
Two for the show
One to pay for the credit cards
And two to rock 'n rollOne gave her the wedding ring
The new car that she drives
But two gives her the feeling she needs
That one's money can't buyNow she arrives at the honky tonk
Just a little bit late
Parks her Mercedes 'round back
'Cause her name's on the license plateShe steps into another life
As she walks through the door
Then she melts into his arms
As they dance out across the floorAnd she's got one for the money
Two for the show
One to pay for the credit cards
And two to rock 'n rollOne gave her a wedding ring
The new car that she drives
But two gives her the feeling she needs
That one's money can't buyAnother wild lover's weekend
Ends too soon
And when they open up the blinds
It's Sunday afternoonShe wishes it could last forever
And he's beggin' her to stay
But she's got to pull herself together
'Cause there's a plane coming in from LAAnd she's got one for the money
Two for the show
One to pay for the credit cards
And two to rock 'n rollOne gave her the wedding ring
The new car that she drives
But two gives her the feeling she needs
That one's money can't buyShe's got one for the money
And you know two for the show
One to pay for the credit cards
And two to rock 'n rollOne gave her the wedding ring
The new car that she drives

But two gives her the feeling she needs
That one's money can't

Songwriters
KRISTOFFERSON, KRISPublished by Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, Universal Music Publishing Group, HORI PRO ENTERTAINMENT GROUP

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/