Deathblow

Carnal Forge

Down here inside the walls of death nobody can hear your screams but me who the fuck are you to judge me I am just killing a bastard that deserves to dieFor what you did there is a price and you will pay with your fucking lifeThere is no excuse for your crimes you will feel the pain equal to a thousand deathsFor what you did there is a price and you will pay with your fucking lifeI knock you out from the face of the earth I will give you an overdose of my most painful cureTime after time I see myself die, what a spectacular sight my sweet end of lifeFor what you did there is a price and you will pay with your fucking lifeI knock you out from the face of the earth
I will give you an overdose of my most painful cureYou may think I have no conscience, but mine is as clean as ice, when I strike for the first time you're bound to die
You may think I have no conscience, but mine is as clean as ice, when I strike for the first time you're bound to dieDown here inside the walls of death nobody can hear your screams but me
who the fuck are you to judge me
I am just killing a bastard that deserves to dieFor what you did there is a price
and you will pay with your fucking lifeI knock you out from the face of the earth
I will give you an overdose of my most painful cureYou may think I have no conscience, but mine is as clean as ice,
when I strike for the first time you're bound to die
You may think I have no conscience, but mine is as clean as ice, when I strike for the first time you're bound to die
