Run to Me

denty one

Over your head trying not to drown
Reaching for a breath before it drags you down
Caught in between all the pain you feel
You lost control, you're letting go but I never will
I'm holding on for you, I'm fighting for your light
And when you're blinded by this jaded world, I'll be your eyes
Even if you fall I won't let you break
When all the noise is telling you to run away, run to me
Day after day after all you've seen
It's alright if you feel like unraveling
I'll be right here pushing out the walls
To find a place where you can stay brave through it all
I'm holding on for you, I'm fighting for your light
And when you're blinded by this jaded world, I'll be your eyes
Even if you fall I won't let you break

When all the noise is telling you to run away, run to me
When I was lost
Hanging on by a thread
I knew that I could run to you
To find myself again
I'm holding on for you, I'm fighting for your light
And when you're blinded by this jaded world, I'll be your eyes
Even if you fall I won't let you break
When all the noise is telling you to run away, run to me
Baby run to me, baby run to me
When your blinded by this jaded world, I'll set you free
Even you fall I won't let you break
When all the noise is telling you to run away, run to me
Ooh run to me, yeah
