Elliv Noir Am

Tinfed

I hadn't expected this coming
I planned on something different
Towards the end I should have figured
Hooked to this support uncovered
With the fingers around me and the movement tightening
It's no wonder I'm finding it hard to breathe
Being sucked by what's seen
What I didn't want to see
Is the thing that comes between us is me
Thrown from this accident
I'm on your table bleeding
Spent the night hemorrhaging
Regardless of everything I'm trying
And much harder to believe that the thing that comes between us is me
All weighed down
Could this last forever
