Ghost Rider

Rush

Pack up all those phantoms
Shoulder that invisible load
Keep on riding north and west
Haunting that wilderness road
Like a ghost riderCarry all those phantoms
Through bitter wind and stormy skies
From the desert to the mountain
From the lowest low to the highest high
Like a ghost riderKeep on riding North and West
Then circle South and East
Show me beauty, but there is no peace
For the ghost riderShadows on the road behind
Shadows on the road ahead
Nothing can stop you nowThere's a shadow on the road behind
There's a shadow on the road ahead
Nothing can stop you nowSunrise in the mirror
Lightens that invisible load
Riding on a nameless quest
Haunting that wilderness road
Like a ghost riderJust an escape artist
Racing against the night
A wandering hermit
Racing toward the lightFrom the White Sands
To the Canyonlands
To the redwood stands
To the Barren LandsSunrise on the road behind
Sunset on the road ahead
There's nothing to stop you now
Nothing can stop you nowThere's a shadow on the road behind
There's a shadow on the road ahead
Nothing can stop you now
