Let It Be Known

Jesse Rhodes

Well, I've flown around,
Gone from town to town.
But I've never,
I've never met someone like you

Well, I've had a taste of just about every other place.
But I've never,
I've never met someone like you.

Oh, the words that I've sown,
Let it be known.
That I tried, oh I tried, oh I tried,
But you won't give me a second glance.

Yea, I saw your face.
My poor heart,
Yea, it stuck into place.
Cause I've never,
I've never met someone like you.

Well, I'm holding out.
Yea, your love holds me down.
Cause I've never,
I've never met someone like you.

Oh, the words that I've sown,
Let it be known.
That I've tried, oh I tried, oh I tried.
But you won't give me a second glance.

The words that I've sown,
Let it be known.
That I've tried, oh I tried, oh I tried.
But you won't give me a second glance.

Let it be known,
Let it be known,
Oh, let it be known.

Cause I've never,

I've never met someone like you.
No, no, no, no,
No, I've never met someone like you.

Cause I've never met someone like you.
No, oh, oh, oh,
No, I've never,
I've never met someone like you.
