Eden's Gate

Pat Green

She holds the key to Eden's Gate
Somewhere deep inside
When she gives to me her patience
And a hundred smiles none the sameHer eyes are the ocean
I am drowning constantly
I am lucky just to linger
In the corners of her scene[Chorus]
I am lost inside the walls of Eden
Don't you ever set me free
I am lost inside the walls of Eden
I'll never go back, no I'll never go back againOutside the world's a bastard
The son whose father never cared
It keeps on raging like some crazy storm
But not in here[Chorus]All it cost me was my whole life
All it gives me is everything
A love like fire, the taste of skin
The feeling of falling again and again
It's a long drink from a cool well
It's everything, baby
It's everything, baby, it's eveythingI am lost inside the walls of Eden
Don't you ever set me free[Chorus]
