

New Emotion

Ryan Shupe & The Rubberband

Would you love me if I told you that I could not Hold you closer tonight, and to my heart you just might?
Break me, make me fall down, trip me up and hit ground

I dont wanna be there and I dont wanna be but I feelA new emotion, a deep devotion
And a notion that I will find you

Alright, tonight

And I might fall againSo would you stay if you knew that I would only leave you
Sad enough and lonely and I think of you only?

And in my dreams we would walk, and in my dreams we would talk
Hand in hand together, hand in hand of youA new emotion, a deep devotion

And a notion that I will find you

Alright, tonight

And I might fall again

Well, I might fallI dont wanna see the news, I dont wanna feel the rain
And thats falling on my face again

I dont wanna see your face on a billboard store

Dont wanna grow old in this place no moreSo would you think me crazy and would you laugh forever
And in my arms you would be and in your eyes I could see
All the stars of bad night and I'm hoping you might

Swear I've seen your eyes before, swear I've seen your eyes and I feelA new emotion, a deep devotion
And a notion that I will find you

Alright, tonight

I might fall againWell, I might fall again

Well, I might fall again

Well, I might fall again

Well, I might fall
