

Child of Burning Time

Slipknot

My only consolation is a lie
The apex of my consequence is dying here tonight
Winter hasn't ended and it always looks like rain
I can't remember anything Inside the absolution, we succumb
And appetites are bittersweet I think I'm going numb
A chance to give up Avarice has marked my one regret
The child of burning time is gone he hasn't come back yet Before I tell my story please consider who I am I missed my window years ago, I'm doing all I can
A tragedy is commonplace but in the end they go away my skin is still the only stain I'm left to wear in shame I cut my name into my heart, still I tear it all apart
I beg you burn me away, I won't become your hero just to fight the life I saved Burn me away, I won't give up tomorrow just to lose it all today I burn away... My isolation is my course
The effect it has on life itself is a cancer on its source
I rue the moments spent between the fetish and the flame
Until this war is over I won't ever lose my rage I cut my name into my soul, I guess I'll never know
I beg you... burn me away...
I won't become your hero just to fight the life I saved
Burn me away
I won't give up tomorrow just to lose it all today Burn me away, I won't become your hero just to fight the life I saved
Burn me away, I won't give up tomorrow just to lose it all, lose it all today

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>