

Waiting for Someone to Love Me

Justin Levinson

I wake up in the morning
And sip my coffee
Just waiting for someone to love me.

And I put on my work clothes
Turn on the TV
Just waiting for someone to love me.

And I close both my eyes and I count to ten
Ready or not I'll find where your hiding
Cause I'm growing so tired of waiting.

And my job it's so mindless
But keeps me busy,
While I'm waiting for someone to love me

And I drive home in traffic
Go on gasoline
Just waiting for someone to love me

And I close both my eyes and I count to ten
Ready or not I'll find where your hiding
Cause I'm growing so tired of waiting.

And on the weekends, I'm drinking
To ease my worries
About waiting for someone to love me

But on Sunday I'm resting to start a new week
Just waiting for someone to love me.

And I close both my eyes and I count to ten
Ready or not I'll find where your hiding
Cause I'm growing so tired of waiting.
