The City

Sarah Harmer

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

The city was too late for us
I got there and you wanted to get away
The city was too gray for us
We slept through the blue skies
Under clouds of the duvetAnd the streets were all to straight for us
A parade of nobility seen from above
But the city is to blame for us
And what was our loveThe city makes you make a fuss
It's places to meet up under the light
The city's got its stake in us
It's keeping receipts of our hello's and our hi'sAnd everything is made of dust
From the backs of the comets to the little street mice
The city takes so long to get quiet
And lust wasn't sleeping that nightBefore we knew it we knew it was right Before we blew it I didn't know that we might
And now it's somebody's story and I'm not sorry that it's mine
Before we knew it we were out of timeThe city says 'oh if I could'
But the rain-soaked battered view makes you not sure
Am I walking in your neighbourhood?
I was just driving by the rained-out streets where we once wereAnd even though it's way too late
Time seems to have stopped still where we stood
You ran back in and you're somewhere in the city
You're somewhere in the city and I hope you're good

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/