

Don't Worry

Brian Wilson

With all your running around

You're getting to me

And bringing me down

I'm going out of my way

To live in the now

And not yesterday Don't worry where you're going or how far

Everyone has to find their own North Star Someday you'll find a place where you wanna be

That's all that ever mattered to you and me Don't worry where you're going or how far You've got to follow the sun

Think for yourself

Love everyone

You know you're breaking my heart?

Living this way

Falling apart Don't worry where you're going or how far

Everyone has to find their own North Star Someday you'll find a place where you wanna be

That's all that ever mattered to you and me Don't worry where you're going or how far

Everyone has to find their own North Star Don't worry, don't worry, don't worry
