Strange House

The Attack

I was riding in the sky and i saw a strange looking land i swaggered over there to a house and a funny looking man he invited me inside saw such things i'd never seen beforeit was strange (in his house)there was a table upside down with no legs and a funny coloured pink there wasn't any chairs so i sat on the edge of a sink i had tea in a clock and i ate a piece of green rockit was strange (in his house)was i just imagining or was this really happening to me? perhaps it's just a funny dream but to me it seems so real open feeling in my mind i'm in a trance or i must bei went up the stairs to the cellar which was on the top floor i went down the stairs to the attic which was on the floor before i landed in the garden how i did was a mystery to meit was strange (in his house)i walked down the garden path found myself sitting on a bed it was suspended in mid air with no springs not even any legs so i laid my head down went to sleep hoping i would disappearit was strange (in his house)i'm back riding in the sky near my home i hope that i become awake when i arrive hoping that this dream has died if it don't i know that i will have no peace until i die
