Everyone I Know Is Falling Apart

Bernard Butler

Everyone I know is falling apart 'round you
But I know I'll be the last
So I'll tell you when they're throughEveryone I know is falling apart 'round you
But I keep telling myself that it won't happen
With us tooI won't touch, I won't feel
I'll still be here behind the wheel
No, I won't carry onEveryone I know is falling apart 'round you
Can't you see the weight on your shoulders
Is a burden that's meant for two?Everyone wants to know what in the world's got Into you and I just wish I could sing
What it means to feel like youCome now hush
Tears won't help you carry on
Take good care, will you?
Take good care, will you?Run, take good care with you
Take your fears with you
Take good care will you?
