

Sweet River Roll (LP Version)

Waterdeep

Homebound Henry's got a tumor in his head
He wakes up every morning after dreaming he was dead
He used to think that life was boring, but now that's not the case
He turns to his wife in the evening, he says "Honey I'm afraid I'm gonna lose this race." Sweet River, roll all over me
Sweet River, roll all over me
Soaking wet Juliet- she lives in a well full of tears
Her husband left her for some bimbo after twenty-two years Now she's got to start all over, but she's just so terrified
She thinks it woulda been so much easier if he woulda just died
And I'm lookin out my car window sittin' in the pouring rain Although your house is fifteen miles away, I can still feel your pain I've thought and prayed and worked it through about a hundred times or more
How your soul just cries to everyone to help you get up off the floor Right now it's morning, you're probably totally unaware Of the flood of kisses you hold back by the way that you despair It ain't me I'm talking about here, or anybody else you can touch
That's all I want to say right now, I don't want to say too much Except Sweet Jesus, roll all over me
Sweet Jesus, roll all over me... You gotta come down and just set me free

Songwriters

CHAFFER, DON Published by

Lyrics © Warner/Chappell Music, Inc. Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>