107

Charlotte Roche

It's about this constant addiction
About this greater demand
As I reach for the laugh with only seconds left
I'm getting deeperIt's about this constant addiction
About this greater demand
As I reach for the laugh with only seconds left
I'm getting deeperAnd did you say that you were happy?
'Cause though I leave you alone
I need the push to allude to things I have to say
To what I have to sayAnd there's a time and a place we hide behind
An alternate face
And when the freak needs a nurse you comply
With the fools in mindAnd there's a time and a place we hide behind
An alternate face
We're the people who fuck with your mind
When you sleep insideI can take you away
To a better place, to a better time
I can take you away
To a better placeLet's talk about you and me tonight
And 'cause I'd really like to take you home
Let's talk about you and me tonight
'Cause I need the push to allude to things I have to sayAnd there's a time and a place we hide behind
An alternate face
And when the freak needs a nurse you comply
With the fools in mindAnd there's a time and a place we hide behind
An alternate face
We're the people who fuck with your minds
When you sleep insideAnd remember the times that we've shown you the way
And remember the times that we've shown you the way
And remember the times that we've shown you the way
And remember the times that we've shown you the way

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/