Sugar And Spice

Willow Smith

I try to be sugar and spice
But Im melancholy and cant do anything right
The monsters under my bed keep making noise at night
I just want silence, silence
Bye kids try thisI sat in front of the teary screen
Sad hes always screaming at me
They wanna puncture me and then wonder why I bleed(I bleed, I bleed, I bleed....)
The big city everyone is looking for
Step on my ladder and bathe in glory
Inject my soul with darkness
And take my heart and go mark it, and...
The past lasts like a tear stain
Im in the dark, pin on the wall
But I dont see a thing
I write circles in the sky, while Im drowning
While Im drowningI try to be sugar and spice,
But Im melancholy and cant do anything right
The monsters under my bed keep making noise at night,
I just want silence, silence
Bye kids try thisIll bet you think you know but youre so close
A million miles away I can hear your thoughts
Predicting motions or your next move
Im right in front of you, Im right in front of you
Your mouth is moving but you dont move,
Im right in front of you, Im right in front of you
Take a swing at me, Ill fight
Till the death my light is bright
I try to be sugar and spice,(oooohhh)Chorus:
I try to be sugar and spice,
But Im melancholy and cant do anything right(and can't do anything right)
The monsters(the mon-) under my bed(under my- under my bed) keep making noise at night,
I just want silence, silence(silence, silence)
Bye kids try thisI sat in front of the teary screen
Sad hes always screaming at me
They wanna puncture me and then wonder why I bleed
The big city everyone is looking for
Step on my ladder and bathe in glory
Inject my soul with darkness
And take my heart and go mark it, and...

The ast lasts like a tear stain
Im in the dark, pin on the wall
But I dont see a thing
I write circles in the sky while Im drowning

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/