

Water In My Head

Buck-O-Nine

In all the water she said to me
She said to me, "I'm sorry"
In all the water she said to me
She said to me, "It's alright" All that I could say
And all that I could do
Wasn't enough to convince her
Of what I thought I knew Then all her words started to sound the same
Started to sound the same as water
Yeah, all her words started to sound the same
Started to sound the same as, blah, blah, blah She talked about some future plans
And why our friendship had to end
But it wasn't enough to change my mind
About what I thought I knew
