Simple Minds

Descended from a world of darkened places
Descended from a world that's lost control
Suspended between time and fractured places
I'm waiting for the fall here on my own
Please take me down where the rain drops
Please take me down, down below
Please hold me here where the dreams stop
Please leave me here on my own, yeah
It was fate that took me down into this place
I wanna cross the borders of control
Take me to the shrine that's in your basement
And hold me in that place I'll lose it all
So please take me down where the rain drops
Please take me down so far below
Come take me down to where my dream stops
I don't know where else I can go
So please take me down to where the rain drops
Please lay me down, down below
Please leave me here where the dream stops
'Cause I don't know where else I can go
