

Going In Blind

P.o.d.

One day

Some day

This life's not like you wanted it
His eyes, I can see again, I need you here
In your mind, nobody's listening
It's alright not to feel again, just breathe again
Time after time, I walk the fine line
Something keeps bringing me back
And time after time, I'm going in blind
I don't know which way I need to go
Feels like your world is caving in
And I cry failing to understand, I wish I can
It's alright if you're missing him
In his eyes you can live again, free within
Time after time, I walk the fine line
Something keeps bringing me back
And time after time, I'm going in blind
Don't know which way I need to go
Time after time, I walk the fine line
Something keeps bringing me back
But time after time, I can't see the signs
I don't know which way I need to go

Do all these roads lead me back to you?

(Count on nothing)

I don't know which way I need to go

(Count on nothing)

Do all these roads lead me back to you?

(Count on nothing)

I don't know which way I need to go

One day

Some day

Time after time, I walk the fine line
Something keeps bringing me back
And time after time, I'm going in blind
I don't know which way I need to go
Time after time, I walk the fine line
Something keeps bringing me back
And time after time, I can't see the signs

Do all these roads lead me back to you?
Time after time
Do all these roads lead me back to you?
One day
