

Old Dirty Bastard

Comet Kid

She was a fighter, fighting for lost causes.
He was the fallen one, she had the faith, he had the rage on.

Together they wandered out in the Woods, found themselves a peaceful Place.

She was still blind, he took out his gun.
"Lay Down Your head", he said "and rest for a while".
"I'll take you away my love to a Secret Place".

She was so tired, been walking for a while, he came smiling offering her a ride, she said yes, then the rain started falling.

Together they drove home, home to her house, he was curious about her name, she said "I am ...", then he took out his knife.

"Lay Down Your head" he said "and rest for a while".
"I'll take you away my love to a Secret Place".

He was running underneath, the bridge of the silent city, running away from the demons chasing him.
They said "Come on man you can do another kill", "It's a proper, proper, proper, proper thrill!"

"Lay Down you head", they said "and rest for a while".
"We'll take you away, you know to a Secret Place":

She was standing tall pointing the gun at his face.
He ain't here no more, got two bullets straight between his eyes. x2
Oh, oh oh, hey, hey hey x5

I'll take you away, you old dirty bastard, to a Secret Place.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>