Big Black Sea

Gary Numan

I left a rose at the bottom of the big black sea
For you
From meI haven't uttered a sound since you set me free
I wish I was you
and you felt like meOutside connection's breaking down Internal wiring's burning outThe clouds so thick that I can't see This is for you from meShe said: 'tell me all your secrets, fantasies and fears; Let me see the polaroids of people you hold dear.'
Trapped in tunnel vision, in monophonic sound
She says she loves you
she loves you then it all falls downEchoes in the bedroom Projections on the walls Translations of her letters:
Forever's not at all Trapped in tunnel vision and monophonic sound
she loves you
she loves you
then it all falls downOutside connection's breaking down Internal wiring's burning out
The cloud's so thick that I can't see.
I wish I was you
Instead of meI left a rose at the bottom of the big black sea.
I did it for you.
from me.
I haven't uttered a sound since you set me free
I wish I was you
and you felt like meOutside connection's breaking down
All internal wiring's burning out I dive down towards the big black sea this isn't for you this one's for meThis time it's all for me
And this time it's all for me(she loves you, she loves you then it all falls down)
