Pledge for Freedom

Falconer

I hope the future guides you well
Through archways paved in gold
I hope tomorrow leads you right
To the gates of heaven
To the gates of heavenCount on me to stand by your side
In storms as well as sunshine
Count on me to hail your name
As you see the bright light
As you see the bright lightDrop the crown onto my head
I'll mourn your death with
Tears that needs to be shedFall down and bow your heads for me
I am the king you all sought me to be
To pledge you freedomThere are no clouds in the sky
So trouble not your mind
There is no reason to rise
Keep your great halls heated
Keep your great halls heatedI hope the future guides you well
Through archways paved in gold
I hope tomorrow leads you right
To the gates of heaven
To the gates of heavenDrop the crown onto my head
I'll mourn your death with
Tears that needs to be shedFall down and bow your heads for me
I am the king you all sought me to be
To pledge you freedomNo more lies, deceits or malice
Will haunt this family again
Linger on to life and confirm your shelter
Mark my words, I tell you the truthDrop the crown onto my head
I'll mourn your death with
Tears that needs to be shedFall down and bow your heads for me
I am the king you all sought me to be
To pledge you freedom
To pledge you freedom
