Ready For the Ride

Avatar

You can say what you want, I know what I am doing I don't want us to be gone No time to make escape you will soon be Out of the shadows ready to face You can say what you want, I know I'll make it better... I want to fight but I'll never be a quitter You cannot break me I will not take itThere is but one way to do this Ready for the rideYou can take what you want, for every time I loose it I don't was us to be one How come we make it up and not bring it I work like an anchor at your dispense You can take what you want, I know I don't deserve it... Rebels ascend if you tell me I will steal it No one can change me I want to break itThere is but one way to do this Ready for the ride
