This Broken Heart

Something Corporate

You woke up, in pieces
From making these changes
And holding me ransom, won't write you an anthem
On the outside, I'm trying, 'cause inside, I'm dyingThis broken heart was stronger then
Now I can't stand to part with this
This broken heartYou took me for granted
Now I'm changed, you haven't
It won't be so easy to sell me this feelingThis broken heart, was stronger than, the words I wish you never meant
This broken heartCan't make this right, you see on my face
That I'm not gonna be alright, not tonight
You can read all my letters, but that won't mean things are fine
Not this time, 'cause you gave away all the secrets of you and IThis broken heart, was stronger then
Now I can't stand to part with this
This broken heart, was stronger than
The words I wish you never meant
This broken heart
