From Now to Never

Sparta

So don't forget
In these times try to remember
The time will come
To use your voice and push your viewsSo don't forget
Sometime between now and never
The time will come
You bite your tongue, they'll bury you
And it seems far enough awayIt's a callin' card, your expiration date
When that day comes
Be ready, be ready
To remember what had happened
And have the pride to back downLet's not repeat and everyone can move on
But don't forget
Get ready, get ready
To remember what had happened
And have the pride to back downSo don't forget
In these times try to remember
The time will come
To use your voice and push your viewsSo don't forget
Sometime between now and never
The time will come
You bite your tongue, they'll bury you
And it seems far enough awayScars are for a reason
Remind us of what happened
Stay away from harm
Be ready, be readyWe're tired of fiction and occupied stations
Your motives look like a portrait wealthy, burnin' wells
Get ready, get ready
We're tired of fiction and occupied stationsSo don't forget
In these times try to remember
The time will come
To use your voice and push your viewsSo don't forget
Sometime between now and never
The time will come
You bite your tongue, they'll bury youSo don't forget
The time will come
So don't forget
The time will comeSo don't forget
([Foreign Content])

So don't forget
([Foreign Content])
So don'tSo don't forget
The time will comeAnd I'm not sure
What you'll be like, ohWhat will your eyes say when I see them?
Wonder what you'll grow up to seeSo don't forget
Your time will comeAnd I'm not sure
What you'll be likeIf we have torn the map to pieces
You'll find your way back
'Cause home is where you believeWhat will your eyes say when I see them?
And I wonder what you'll grow old to see

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/