The Progression Of Regression

Chunk! No, Captain Chunk!

What the hell are the things we're fighting for?
(It just seems that we lost what we called our goal)
Dude it feels like no wolfings anymore
(You, me get the same shit like a broken record)What happened to the world we're living in?
Where is the progress that I believed in?
What happened to the moral that we built?
Here is the truth nowWelcome to the decay of the short minds that we had now it's time for the regrets
How can you surprised didn't you see that one coming?
But I should say your the fuckerYou're just, so you ignore us
Your just the one who starred so you can change your shape
But you we're lost believingYou're just, so you ignore us
Your just the one who starred so you can change your shape
But you we're lost believingHow can you be the same when you know that (We're all piloting the plane that was crashing down)
Everyday we get closer to the ground
(But hold on this concerns while the auto sounds)What happened to the world we're living in?
Where is the progress that I believed in?
What happened to the moral that we built?
Here is the truth now:Welcome to the decay of the short minds that we had now it's time for the regrets
How can you surprised didn't you see that one coming, straight up to your face?Now feel the shame of what we are
'Cause we try to raise the bar
Now feel the shame of what we are
'Cause we try to raise the bar
Let's raise the bar
What the hell is tight?Welcome to the decay of the short minds that we had now it's time for the regrets
How can you surprised didn't you see that one coming, straight up to your face?Welcome to the decay of the short minds that we had now it's time for the regrets
How can you surprised didn't you see that one coming, straight up to your face?
