Vanished

Jimmy LaFave

I saw you there across the room
My heart was falling way too soon
And I knew
That like the ancient Siren's Song
I could not hold out very long
Being close to you
So I played my part
And you took my heart
And scattered it in pieces
All around
Where I could not be found
And then you vanished away
Sometimes it's like a dream
That you were even standing there by me
With your face
And fate has made me pay the cost
To find my love then realize that I, I have lost
And time stood still
And I guess it always will
For nothing is as constant as the sound
Of my world turned upside down
When you vanished away
Please try and understand
The timeless love that has slipped right through the hands
Of eternity
That was truly meant to be
That vanished away
