

You

Jennifer Love Hewitt

Hold me now
Stop the morning light from breaking
Something's coming over me
Don't know what it is I'm savingThe clock ticks by
And it just might change everything
If I don't give you all that's waiting
Who knows what tomorrow will bringIf I try not to need you
I'll be hiding from myself but, ohIf tomorrow never comes
I would do it all again
If the light never breaks through
I would stay until the endIf I've saved it all for you
I would have my faith again
Then, then I would know it's youWon't shed a tear
For more than just a moment
Try not to let myself go crazy
Tomorrow may not comeSo I won't hold you here
Unless you wanna fight about it
I would gladly let you win
'Cause I don't need to write this endingIf I just trust the stillness
Somehow it won't hurt so bad, ohIf tomorrow never comes
I would do it all again
If the light never breaks through
I would stay until the endIf I've saved it all for you
I would have my faith again
Then, then I would knowIf tomorrow never comes
I would do it all again
If the light never breaks through
I would stay until the endIf I've saved it all for you
I would have my faith again
Then, then I would know
Then, then, then I would know it's you

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>