

Black Winter Night

DragonForce

Day after day as I bodies slay
And the sun becomes dark in the sky
Everything's lost for this human race
And the dawn of a new age will rise
Rays of sunlight now are gone
Only visions of ice will remain
The fallen ones and forgotten souls
Will rise up over the slain
No more hope
As we raise our hands to the sky
No more dreams
As the rivers run dry
Everything's lost, all is left astray
Only sorrow and sadness remains
Curtains have dropped on our fallen world
And the forces of darkness shall rise
Why can't you see what has happened to thee?
Can you not open your eyes?
Everything's lost, there is no retreat
And the valleys echo with pain
No more hope
As we raise our hands to the sky
No more dreams
As the rivers run dry
On the endless seas of madness, we sail forever more
And the endless tears of sadness towards the distant shores
When the flame has died forever we stand one and all
With the power of the almighty sword
We fight the battle on the fields tonight
To save us from the master of all evil sign
And to the battle on, forever standing strong
We feel the fire power of the night warriors
No more tomorrow
Dying of sorrow
Over the mountains and up through the trees
Traveling across seven seas
No more hope
As we hold our hands to the sky
No more dreams
As the rivers run dry
On the endless seas of madness, we sail forever more
And the endless tears of sadness towards the distant shores
When the flame has died forever we stand one and all
With the power of the almighty sword
We fight the battle on the fields tonight
To save us from the master of all evil sign
And to the battle on, forever standing strong
We feel the fire power of the night warriors
On the endless seas of madness, we sail forever more
And the endless tears of sadness towards the distant shores
When the flame has died forever we stand one and all

With the power of the almighty sword We'll fight the battle on the fields tonight
To save us from the master of all
We fight the battle on the fields tonight
To save us from the master of all evil sign And to the battle on, forever standing strong
We feel the fire power of the night warriors
The power of the night warriors
