

Grace

Steel Train

I'm big and small, it hurts to crawl
This velvet aisle again
And their eyes feast on my deceased
They hold the cherry of my pit Come please and feel my deceased
I know you walk aside your child
And her eyes closed and soul rose
Earth will patch the cracks within
I dig a hole for all my sins Big, small, a pain inside you all
Will touch your spine when I give in
And grace falls, thirteen years to tall
I once walked beside my child
But I left him on a velvet aisle

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>