Let Me Turn Back to You

Poco

I dont know you but I can feel you
In all the ways
You get through these days
Bluer than blueYoure throwin your dreams up
They all come fallin down
Then you turn away, its another day
And it seems youre earthly boundThere is doubt in your eyes in what you say
And what you want to do
I want to be a surprise can't you see it in my eyes
Let me turn back to you, to youOut in the light of the dark
There is always left a spark
And would it be all right, can I see you tonight?
Let me turn back to you
Oh, let me turn back to you, to youI never questioned a smile only lasting for a while
Someone must play the fool
If theres a fire in your heart then its time for us to start
Let me turn back to you, to youOut in the light of the dark
There is always left a spark
And would it be all right, can I see you tonight?
Let me turn back to you
Oh, let me turn back to you
Oh, let me turn back to you
Oh, let me turn back to youAnd take me down
Can I [Incomprehensible]
