All That Remains

3

Just below the surface of an ordinary town
Burn the devils underground
Murder fills the skies above
My eyes upon the earth
Why didn't I realize?
See for the first time
In my life defending

All that remains
Drowning in flames
The same old story
But the names have all been changed
The fatal mistake you made
Was of all the hearts you'd slain
How you left alive my bloody valentine

Gravity unshackles you
And now you float away
Looking back upon your grave
You can't outrun your shadow
You can only shut the lights
Pluck out your wicked eyes
See for the first time
In your life defending

All that remains
Drowning in flames
The same old story
But the names have all been changed
The fatal mistake, you made
was of all the hearts you'd slain
How you left alive my bloody valentine

Aiming at the enemy
I only smash the mirror
Pluck out your wicked eyes
See for the first time in your life defending

All that remains

Drowning in flames
The same old story
But the names have all been changed
The fatal mistake you made
Was of all the hearts you'd slain
How you kept alive my bloody valentine
---
Lyrics submitted by Britney.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/