Orphan

Pete Bernhard

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

called a friend the other day to see what kind of words he'd say he said, "I just met a man down here and his girlfriend don't like you" So give me a number, her address and Ill see if I can do my best to avoid her the next time I'm passing through Never been much for following rules always go out and act the fool and something bad would happen by and by I cant say I'm always proud of myself But I don't wish I was somebody else In fact Id rather be me then youBut a lot of people don't like me not my music, I mean personally gonna tell you how to act and what to say I guess Id rather be an orphan then a slave I guess Id rather be an orphan then a slaveWell I went to a party in the middle of the night crawling up the stairs and that's alright I pictured the who place in flames and it made me smile I wonder why I thought such terrible things a voice in my head heard the telephone ring picked up and said, "we've been wondering for a while" Walked in a wall, slept in the dirt got punched in the face I admit that it hurt and I had enemies that I call my friends But it doesn't matter if I get low down because I'm the one riding on the hear right now and all I gotta do is use my imaginationBut a lot of people don't like me not my music, I mean personally
gonna tell you how to act and what to say I guess Id rather be an orphan then a slave I guess Id rather be an orphan then a slaveWell there's been sometimes I was under the gun and when I was I intended to run it was important but it wasn't worth dying for someone said he who fights and runs away can avoid getting killed another day so I made a point of every window and every door but all these people they gather round my heart goes backwards my head drops down I hear my voice say things I told it not to Couldn't say who it was directed at and why I chose to say something like that and now what I truly plan to doBut a lot of people don't like me that's what I hear now out on the street wanna tell you how to act and what to say I guess Id rather be an orphan then a slave

I guess Id rather be an orphan then a slave
I guess Id rather be an orphan then a slave
