Nobody Knows

Keaton Simons

Nobody KnowsBlink
That's my wake-up call
I'm slowly falling back to sleep
Just in time
for a mirror full of dreams to wash me clean I reflect upon this burning secret that we keep Once again
we tell our friends
there's nothing going on Sure, sure, honey
Haven't seen you around That's right I've heard you've been out of town
With some guy who looks
a lot like me
Can't you see thatNobody knows you
like I do
We can let them wonder Everyone thinks
they know the truth
People never understand Better we lie
and play it cool
So when I see you
It's just
Sure, sure, honey, honey
We both know
That this is just pretendLa la Wink
That's our signal
I leave by the back door Know that we're gonna' meet in an hour
So prepare your alibi

You've got things to do Stayin' with a friend tonight
As for me
Well I say
You can call me friend
That's alright
Sure, sure, honey
Guess I'll see you around Meanwhile
You'll be off getting down
With some guy who looks
a lot like me
Can't you see thatI know every inch of you
But I will barely speak to you tonight That's just how it is gotta be Everybody wants you
But you're coming home with meNobody knows you
like I do
they know the truth
and play it cool
So when I see you
It's just
Sure, sure, honey, honeySure, sure Honey, honeyNobody knows you
like I do
Everyone thinks
they know the truth
and play it cool
So when I see you
It's just
We both know
That this is just pretend
