Surrounded By Love

Hal Ketchum

There's a new star in my sky
There's a new song in my life
Some may take love casually
But I know what it's worth to me[Chorus:]
I would count the steps from here to heaven
Every heartache I was given
Tip my hat and walk through fire
To find sure loveI would chase old ghosts and watch them scatter
Drop old dreams and watch them shatter
Lose myself and all I own
To find sure love
To find sure loveI wake up and she is there
And for a moment I just stare
For the sake of love this true
There is nothing I won't doI would count the steps from here to heaven
Every heartache I was given
Tip my hat and walk through fire
To find sure loveI would chase old ghosts and watch them scatter
Drop old dreams and watch them shatter
Lose myself and all I own
To find sure loveSome may take love casually
But I know what it's worth to meI would count the steps from here to heaven
Every heartache I was given
Tip my hat and walk through fire
To find sure loveI would chase old ghosts and watch them scatter
Drop old dreams and watch them shatter
Lose myself and all I own
To find sure love
To find sure love
Oh to find sure love
