

Thirty Silver

Redemption

Solos: Broderick, Poland, Friedman Push came to shove

The allegiant trust we built took center stage

Needed a lifeline

But you watched me as my body slipped beneath the waves There's a special place in hell for the disloyal

Who cut and run when needed most (Solo: Friedman) So much invested

I thought you had my back as I had yours

Now that it's tested

Your loyalty is just a bunch of empty words There's a special place in hell for the disloyal

Who cut and run when needed most

(guitar lines: Broderick, Poland, Friedman) Stab the flesh, still it will heal

Time repairs even a broken body

Your betrayal cuts much deeper

Cast your silver in the field

And measure out your noose (Solos: Broderick, Poland, Friedman) We lash our craft to those of others

And place our faith in the rising tide

But in the storm you were revealed

Your humanity's a lie (ending guitar line: Friedman)

(Solos: Poland, Friedman, Broderick, Friedman) Less out of malice

And more just a sin of your omission

Your moral cowardice

Exposes you and all your insecurities

There's a special place in hell for the disloyal

Who cut and run when needed most (guitar lines: Poland, Friedman) Stab the flesh, still it will heal

Time repairs even a broken body

Your betrayal cuts much deeper

Cast your silver in the field

And measure out your noose Stab the flesh, still it will heal

Time repairs even a broken body

Your betrayal cuts much deeper

Cast your silver in the field

And measure out...

And measure out...

And measure out...

And measure out your noose (guitar parts: Friedman)

(Solo: Friedman)
