Disconnected

Epidemic

Has it failed?
The lie so white it's almost see through
All we made
A fruitless effort to connect with ourselves
And remain disconnectedDon't hesitate
To sweep this failure under the carpet
As we exchange
Insincerities as we walk out on ourselves
And remain disconnectedSo I slide into the deep end I was
Up against something bigger than me
Don't have any access, don't have any answers
To what's inside, so I hideSo here is to Safety and it's comfort
I wouldn't know
How to get around this or myself to begin with
I remain disconnectedSo I slide into the deep end I was
Up against something bigger than me
Don't have any access, don't have any answers
To what's inside, to what is insideDon't have any access, don't have any answers
To what is inside, so I hide
And remain disconnected
