Hollywood

Massive

Is anybody out there
I'm living in the jungle just to find out the truth
And are they listening
In the promises of the red white and blueI don't believe what they say when they promise the world
I don't believe what they say, when it's written in stone
Alright, we'll set the world on fireCrash down Paranoia, everybody's coming for you
Sunsets going under, nobody's buying the truth
For the right price anything is possible
In the bright lights nobody can tell at all
We lived and died in HollywoodNow everything's so pretty
And everyone will tell you it's always this way
The Angel city
Blinded by your dreams then they suddenly fadeI don't believe what they say when they promise the world
I don't believe what they say, when it's written in stone
Alright, we're never gonna surviveCrash down Paranoia, everybody's coming for you
Sunsets going under, nobody's buying the truth
For the right price anything is possible
In the bright lights nobody can tell at all
We lived and died in Hollywood
