

No Way To Heal

Trivium

I tear your heart out from behind
Remorse survives as mine
You're unaffected still unaware
Of the damage done The shame it takes me
The pain it breaks me
What have I done How do I have to
For all is gone now? I feel the ice cold dagger
Make its way between my ribs again
I stand before disaster
Defiantly I lie then suffocate I'm running on empty
I'm chasing a dead dream
I'm all out of time Clutching the will
Only to feel
No way to heal I try to mend it to build it back
But the wounds become a scar
You're lying face down and you're veiled in red
The sight won't leave my head
